03/05/2013 - Shasta College evaluated Moodle LMS hosting solutions including a re-evaluation of our existing "off-site" hosted solution, several other hosted solutions, and options that would bring the Moodle LMS back “in-house” at Shasta College. In August of 2012, we began to investigate the Joule 2.3 hosted Moodle LMS solution offered by Moodle Rooms (MR). We entered into negotiations with MR in September for a multi-year contract. On November 27, 2012, the District entered into a one (1) year contract with MR that allows us to use their hosted Moodle LMS solution (Joule 2.3) until May 31, 2014. This contract also includes access to the TRAIN learning resources for faculty training (self-paced) as well as training for students new to the Moodle environment (self-paced). For a complete description of the process and outcomes please see the attachment in TracDat for Objective 2.1a.

Target Completion Date: 05/31/2013

05/07/2013 - In an effort to identify best practices to encourage instructors to use the LMS to web-enhance their courses so as to provide greater student access to instructional materials a literature review was conducted. That literature review seeks to identify factors that affect faculty motivation to participate in teaching online distance education courses in general and to specifically identify those factors that affect faculty motivation to "web-enhance" their courses. The literature review is a summary document of observations from research papers, journal articles and other published documents. It is intended to provide College Council with the opportunity to recognize similarities and assess applicability of listed observations. For contextual grounding, historical references, definitions, and brief explanations are occasionally included. To view the literature review in TracDat, please see the related document titled "Update on Strategic Plan Activity 2.1b.docx."

09/02/2013 - Staffing: The SCCCE is currently sponsored by a faculty member with 40% course release time. This is being funded via external grant funds through Spring 2014. Revenue: The SCCCE created the “Student Leadership Fellows Program” starting Fall 2012. This program requires students accepted into the program to register for one college unit via WSL 94. This program is offered Spring 2013 and Fall 2014 and will continue on a semester basis. Additional Grant Funding Opportunities: The SCCCE is submitting an application to the Carnegie Foundation for their Community Engagement Elective Classification for the 2015 award cycle. 05/07/2013 - This update provides progress on the following eight plans.
1. Enrollment Management Plan: This plan was completed by the Enrollment Management Committee in October, 2011. The recent creation of the Student Success Committee and the implementation of the statewide Student Success Act necessitate an update. This update will identify specific tasks to be completed and define how these tasks will be distributed between the Enrollment Management Committee and the Student Success Committee.
2. Facilities Master Plan: We plan to encourage input in the fall 2013 annual area planning cycle to generate information on the long term facility needs of the departments and the campus as a whole. The Facilities Master Plan will reflect both the long-term facility and maintenance needs of the District. The new target completion date is Summer 2014.
3. Student Equity Plan: The Student Equity Plan has not been updated since 2008/2009. The membership for the new committee is nearly complete and will be finalize by May 2013. The Office and Research and Planning has provided student equity data in anticipation of our first meeting in September of 2013. The new plan will be created next academic year and will be submitted to the Chancellor’s Office and College Council by May 2014.
4. Student Success Plan: The Student Success Plan (formerly Matriculation) was last updated in 2010/2011. Once the new regulations are in place for SB 1456, the newly formed Student Success Committee will develop an implementation plan that will be updated annually. Although Student Success Plans are not due to the Chancellor’s Office until 2014/2015, we anticipate the framework of this plan ready for submission to College Council in May 2014.
5. Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan: There is an existing Faculty and Staff Diversity Plan which was completed in the fall of 2008. This plan is on schedule to be reviewed and/or updated during the 2013-14 academic year.

6. Staff Development Plan: The Staff Development Plan (name subject to change) is a project of the Invest in Our People Committee, currently being renamed the Professional Development Committee. The committee is in the process of drafting new bylaws and will be developing a new plan to encompass Professional Development opportunities for all employees during the fall of 2013.

7. Technology Plan: The Technology Plan is due for a complete revision and is currently scheduled for draft circulation beginning in September 2013. The Technology Planning Committee is currently in the assessment phase and is in the process re-defining the scope of the Technology Plan within the new District approach to Integrated Planning.

8. Basic Skills Plan: A Basic Skills Plan is completed and submitted to the state annually. We completed the most recent for 2013-14.

<td>The target completion date for this activity does not align with the timeline outlined in the Integrated Planning Manual (which has this scheduled to begin in September). Nevertheless, College Council agreed to start this process earlier in order to be able to (1) collect more timely feedback in the assessment of the integrated planning process for all who participated and (2) have time to assess the evaluations received and make revisions to the Integrated Planning Cycle in order to ensure sustainable continuous quality improvement. The Integrated Planning Manual stresses the importance of conducting formal assessment of the planning processes. Following the manual, College Council appointed a task force in April to develop a process for gathering District-wide input on the current planning process. This task force is bringing its recommendations for gathering District-wide input to College Council in early May, with a goal of focusing on the Integrated Planning Manual.</td>

Once this input is gathered through surveys and focus groups, members of the task force plan to guide the creation of an Evaluation Report over the summer in order to have a first draft of the report ready for review by College Council at its first meeting of the fall.

Of the 42 instructional programs scheduled to complete Program Reviews in Fall 2012, only 2 did not complete Program Reviews on schedule; however, with little data on PLOs, the assessment of those might not have been very complete. As we reported to ACCJC in our special report on SLOs in October 2012, we have made progress on course-level SLO reporting through Spring 2012 (Fall 2012 SLO results are not due until January 2013). Of the 605 active courses at the college, 598 (or 99%) have identified SLOs. And 501 of the 605 courses (or 83%) are being assessed on an ongoing basis. The low percentage is partially because not all courses were offered last fall and spring. While some Initiative requests were specifically supported by SLO results, the great majority were not, which indicates a need for further discussion about and training in the use of SLO results. Similarly, PLO assessment is not fully in place; a software solution for recording individual student outcomes is in the process of being implemented. <td>09/10/2013 - To begin work on this Institutional Objective, the Faculty and Staff Survey was administered in September 2012 to determine whether the issues highlighted in 2010 still existed. The survey was substantially the same as the survey administered in fall 2010. Over the course of about two weeks, 333 employees completed the survey (comparable to 2010, when 307 employees completed the survey), representing all constituencies of the college. The results of the survey were reported to College Council on September 11, 2012, and were made available to the entire college community by posting them on the Planning Documents page of the college website. College Council reviewed the results of this survey with the following observation: Overall, respondents expressed more confidence in and optimism about the planning and governance processes at the college than in 2010. - 83% agree that Shasta College encourages discussion and communication throughout the college community, compared to 54% in 2010;
- 75% are satisfied with their opportunities to participate in key institutional decisions, compared to 50% in 2010;
- 84% believe that the planning cycle is complete and comprehensive, compared to 51% in 2010; and
- 89% believe that instructional planning results in continuous improvement, compared to 68% in 2010.

Some of the results from the 2010 survey that the accreditation visiting team had mentioned as problematic had improved substantially by the time that the 2012 survey was administered. For example, while only 36% of classified staff felt they had a voice in participatory planning in 2010, 71% felt they had a voice in 2012 (along with 72% of full-time faculty). In answer to a question about feeling “empowered to actively participate in creating and implementing innovation,” the percentage of full-time faculty who agreed rose from 41% in 2010 to 74% in 2012 while the percentage of adjunct faculty increased from 43% to 77%. Full-time faculty also agreed in greater numbers in 2012 that they had an equitable role in “governing, planning, budgeting and policy-making bodies” – 66% compared to 38% in 2010.

This laid the groundwork for the creation of a decision making handbook (institutional Objective 4.3.b) and for educating District staff and faculty about decision-making processes (Institutional Objective 4.3.c).
