Easy Ways to Eat 6 Servings of Fruits & Vegetables a Day

Breakfast -- eat half a banana or half an apple along with whatever else you normally have for breakfast.

Lunch -- eat a medium carrot or half an apple mid-morning.
Have two cups of dark leafy green lettuce in a salad with lunch.

Dinner: snack on a carrot or half an apple before dinner then have a vegetable or fruit side dish with your meal. Always have a green salad.

• The size of one serving is half a cup -- so a large apple counts as two!
• Fiber in beans, vegetables and fruit help keep your heart healthy.
• Fresh, frozen or canned? These all have about equal nutritional value. Rinse fruits in heavy syrup and choose “light syrup” for less calories.
• Carrots, celery, onions, cabbages, oranges and apples last a long time after you buy them so they are easy to keep on hand in your kitchen.
• Whenever you make canned soup at home, add extra water to reduce salt, add chopped fresh, frozen or canned vegetables to boost the nutrition. Kids don’t like vegetables? Grated zucchini or carrot can’t even be tasted.

• For healthier pizza, ask them to put on only half the cheese and give you the rest to use later. Tastes about the same -- but with about half the fat!
• Get Take-and-Bake pizzas and then boost the nutrition by adding thinly sliced zucchini or onion, or chopped bell peppers at home before baking.

Tasty, Quick, Easy & Healthy

Pumped Up Mac & Cheese
Make mac and cheese then stir in one can tuna and some canned green beans or peas -- an instant casserole in your pot!

Instant Pizza
Spread tomato paste (more flavor and nutrition than tomato sauce) directly on bread or a flour tortilla or pita bread. Sprinkle on Italian seasoning and top with chopped leftover meats or lunch meat and a sprinkle of grated cheese. Heat in toaster oven. Use less cheese -- still delicious but way less calories!

Breakfast Wrap
Cut a slice of lunch meat and a slice of cheese in half and line them all up in the center of a corn or flour tortilla. Microwave for 15 seconds. Then add salsa if you like and roll it up! (whole wheat tortillas are most nutritious)

Kids’ Carrot Salad
If you get them to try this, they will love it. Peel and grate some carrots. Add raisins and/or chopped apples. Stir in just enough low-fat sour cream or plain or vanilla yoghurt to moisten. Add just a little bit of frozen concentrated lemonade to sweeten. Add a pinch of cinnamon for a flavor-punch.

Easiest Fruit Salad -- Everyone Loves It
Use any combination of fruit you have. Apples, oranges, bananas, pears, grapes, etc. For the “dressing,” use a tablespoon of frozen orange juice concentrate and a pinch of cinnamon. Stir. Kids absolutely love it and the orange juice keeps fruit from turning brown overnight if you have leftovers.

Sneaky Snack Cake
Use a spice cake mix. Follow directions but instead of oil, use applesauce in the same amount. Add two cups grated carrots and/or a cup of raisins. Bake a little longer than the directions call for. Sneaky Snack Cake is delicious and moist without frosting and “sneaks” in some fruits and vegetables.

Rice and Beans Make a Protein Equal to Meat
When eaten in the same meal, rice and beans or tortillas and beans combine to make a complete protein. If you soak beans or rice overnight or for a few hours, you can cook them covered, and with water, in a microwave.
